

EMERALD KEEPERS

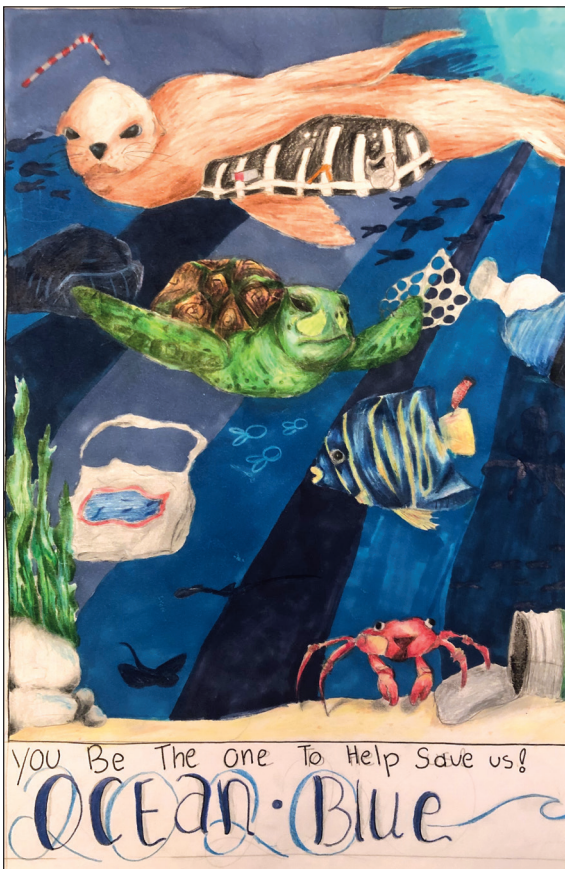

Making Coronado Emerald Green, Ocean Blue

A MESSAGE FROM EMERALD KEEPERS

With Coronado's reopening, Emerald Keepers is delivering prizes to our poster competition winners this week. Prizes were to have been awarded on the "greenest" day of the year — St. Patrick's Day — during the scheduled City Council meeting. Sadly, we had to postpone. With the close of the school year upon us, Emerald Keepers did not want to miss the opportunity to celebrate and award the winners. We had 74 fabulous entries. We have featured one winner a week for the past several weeks, but decided to share all the winners with you.

Student posters may be picked up from the Coronado Public Library; or, if you submitted through an art class at Coronado Middle School, you may pick them up there when the school reopens. Copies of the winning posters will go on display in the Library when indoor check-out resumes. Thank you to everyone who entered our poster competition and congratulations to all of our winners!
